

Cognitive

The child develops strategies and acquires knowledge to better and better understand the world around him. He is experienced in problem solving and decision making. He wakes up to mathematics and science.